CHURCH BURIAL FORBIDDEN

And No Explanation Has Been Made
By the Bishop.

Louisville, Ky.—A sensation was created at the funeral of Spalding Coleman, one of the most prominent citizens of Louisville, who died suddenly, and whose funeral was announced to take place from the St. Louis Bertrand church. After the body had been borne into the church and placed at the foot of the altar railing Father Flynn advanced to the middle of the altar and announced that by orders of Right Rev. Bishop William George McCloskey the funeral had been forbidden to be held in the church. The edifice, one of the largest in Louisville, was filled to overflowing. The mayor and his cabinet and all of the city officials were present. Mr. Coleman having been a member of the board of public works.

Relatives of Mr. Coleman went into the sacristy to find out the cause of the order, but the Dominican priest, who the services for the dead were read by Rev. Frank Hardy, assistant pastor, who also said prayers at the grave in Cave Hill. A Catholic choir also sang at the grave.

JURY DISAGREES

In Marcum Case—Stood Eight for Conviction, Four for Acquittal.

Beattyville, Ky.—The jury in the trial of French, Abner and Smith, charged with the murder of James B. Marcum, was discharged by Judge Dorsey, with eight for conviction and four for acquittal. The jury reported to the court that it would be impossible for it to agree, even if it deliberated a week longer. For eight hours the jurors were out and each ballot was the same from the start. Seven of those for conviction were from Powell county and the other from Lee county. This has been the greatest victory yet won by the commonwealth in any of the Breathitt county feuds. Mrs. Marcum and the attorneys for the prosecution expressed satisfaction at the result of the trial. All of the defendants were required to execute new bonds in the sum of $10,000 each for their appearance here in November. This will have little effect, the prosecution says, so far as Smith and Abner are concerned, as they are now being held without bail for the alleged murder of Dr. B. D. Cox.

PLAYED CARDS.

Lost $2,000. Stole $5,300 More and Fled, It Is Alleged.

Paducah, Ky.—Phil Abbott, teller of the American-German national bank, has disappeared and the bank is believed to be out $7,300. A few days ago he was granted a vacation, telling to return at the appointed time. President George C. Thompson began an investigation and it is said, found the shortage. President Thompson's theory is that Abbott lost about $2,000 of the bank's money playing cards, and knowing he could not make it good, took $5,300 in cash when he left. The bank was secured by a bonding company, which has an agent at Abbott. The teller was one of the most prominent young men in Paducah, and had been with the bank two years.

OLD FEUD

Between Two Merchants Ends in the Killing of One of Them.

Columbia, Ky.—Elijah Burton, a merchant of Vevor, near here, is in jail here accused of the murder of J. Dooley, a rival in business. It is alleged that the men fostered an old grudge, and that that Dooley fired at Burton with his gun, missing him, but wounding two bystanders, Ben Powell, a boy, fatally, and John Powell, who was shot in the leg. Dooley was found shot dead near his home, and his daughter claims she saw Burton fire the fatal shot. The latter gave himself up to the authorities. Neighbors say that the men had several quarrels during the past year, resulting in encounters which came near ending fatally. This last affray, however, was the most bitter of all, and it seems that Dooley was resolved to kill Burton for he captured his shotgun at him with the result that two innocent men were shot. It appears also that Dooley did not remain at home, but that a daylight he was seen sitting on his doorstep with a shotgun across his lap as if waiting to kill his man.

EJECTION PROCEEDINGS

Started Against 300 Citizens of An Eastern Kentucky County.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Through his agent, Judge L. K. Rice, at Middleboro, Ky., C. H. Davis, of New York is suing in the United States circuit court for Eastern Kentucky suit against more than 300 citizens of Harlan county, Kentucky, to eject them from 87,000 acres of land, which is one-fourth of the total area of the county. Davis' claim is based on purchase of patents made by his grandfather, E. B. Davis, in 1866, from three citizens of Harlan county, who had obtained patents from the state in 1845. Davis had never been able to have his lands surveyed because of opposition from the squatters until he employed government surveyors who the recent geological survey was made by the government. He has in his employ many lawyers, clerks and engineers. Many coal mines have been opened by capitalists from other states on the disputed territory.

CIVIL WAR IN THE TWO ISLANDS

CUERRERA LEADS REVOLT IN THE CUBAN REPUBLIC.

His Army Is Near the Capital's Forts—Palma Is Rushing Troops To the Infected Districts.

Havana, Aug. 22.—The Palma government is adopting the most strenuous measures for suppressing the revolt which has already grown to alarming proportions. So bold have the rebels become that one band attempted to march into the city heavily armed. The police and a detachment of Rural Guards had been informed of their coming, however, and repulsed them. The main center of the revolt is at present in Pinar del Rio, where Gen. Pino Guerrera is reported to have over 2,000 men in the field, 1,000 of them having laid siege to the capital of the province.

Col. Estrampes started from this city with a large force of troops to give battle to the insurgents. He has been given a free hand to stamp out the rebellion.

At the same time another expedition will set out against the negro leader, Gen. Quintan Banderas, who has gathered together a strong force in Hoyo Colorado, 20 miles from here. This will be under the command of Gen. Baldomero Acosta.

Marching Through Streets. Meanwhile ammunition and provision trains are being loaded here and troops are marching through the streets.

It is expected Col. Estrampes will have about 1,000 men under his command, well mounted and well armed, in addition to the Rurales already in Hoyo Colorado, so that the government does not anticipate any great difficulty in suppressing the rising in that quarter.

Alarming reports have been received from other provinces, the trouble extending as far east as Santiago.

Uprisings are reported in Cardenas and Gules, where several hundred men, fully armed, are said to be on the march.

The government is suppressing, as far as possible, all news of the uprising, and has placed a strict censorship on all press dispatches. It is unofficially admitted, however, that serious measures will be necessary to cope with the rebellion.

Several encounters between small bands of Rurales and rebels are reported in the western part of Havana province, but these can not be confirmed.

A TOWN OF 10,000

Population, 30 Miles From Valparaiso, Reported To Have Sunk.

Lima, Aug. 22.—It is reported that Quillota, a town of 10,000 population, about 30 miles from Valparaiso, has sunk entirely from sight, and that less than 100 of the inhabitants escaped. The sinking is reported to have taken place during the shock that was timed at Valparaiso as having lasted four minutes and 30 seconds.

Dispatches from La Paz, Bolivia, state that the telegraph offices in that town are besieged by anxious persons who have friends in Valparaiso and Santiago. Many families have children in Chilean colleges and are awaiting news with great anxiety.

A word about the present Senatorial fight in Kentucky. We should not permit our enthusiasm to lead us away from the truth or cause us to lose sight of the respective merits of the two candidates for United States Senator. The present Governor hath a vaunting ambition and thinks his services to the State for the past six years entitles him to a seat in the Federal Senate. (Beckham in many regards has made a good Governor, but like all men who do things, he has made his mistakes, many of which we can excuse. However, according to the view of some Democratic editors and laymen we should not dare mention his errors at all. We should condone his wrongs, if any he has done; we should excuse his mistakes, if any he has made; all because he is a Democrat. To this doctrine we cannot subscribe. We feel at liberty to discuss the good things he has done and laud him therefor, and at the same time claim the right to call attention to any mistake he has made. Why should not a man wallop his own jackass? Can't a father administer punishment for the disobedience of his own child? Can't a master reprove and correct his own servant? Beckham is only a servant of the people; therefore, we should freely and fearlessly discuss his official acts. There is no reason why, on tip toe, behind dark lanterns, with bated breath for fear some Republican should hear us, we should secrete ourselves in some remote corner to discuss the doings of State administration.

What Beckham has done that is praiseworthy and laudable we should commend. If his administration has done anything that is not right and is not in accordance with honest Democratic principles and good government, the Democrats should be the first to condemn it and set about to correct it. To say that an honest discussion would furnish material for Republican campaign, should not be a terror to any one and should not prevent anybody from discussing the Democratic administration with freedom and frankness. The administration that can't bear discussion is one that can't be endorsed and as the Governor himself has invited a thorough investigation of his official acts, we feel that anyone can, with perfect liberty and safety refer to it. If the Republicans cry machine, we can say they are much more solely afflicted than we. The most dangerous machine in Kentucky today is the Federal officeholders. If they say that there is corruption at Frankfort, we can say that while that might be true, there has been no assassination under a Democratic administration.

But to Mr. Beckham—His administration has done many good things for the people of Kentucky. They brought order out of chaos; they paid off the State indebtedness; they have increased the appropriations for charitable and educational purposes; they have lengthened the common school term; they have greatly increased the common school per capita. During four years of Beckham's administration he has granted half as many pardons as Bradley did in two. We give him full credit for what he has done, but even with that, does he deserve a seat in the Senate as against a faithful representative who has had only one term? Beckham has virtually had three terms as Governor and yet he objects to McCreary having even two as Senator. The greatest objection to be assigned to Beckham is that no sane man can deny that he has done everything he possibly could to perpetuate himself in power and that he has used the office of Governor for the purpose of nominating and electing men who would stand by him and advance his political interest and to defeat any man who for one moment sought to oppose him even in a single act. He has drawn around him a coterie of two by four politicians who have sought to run the State government. The chief of these is "Miss" Perci Haley, who has been his main spokesman in all his political battles. There never has been a moment since Beckham's inauguration to office but that he has had his eye on the National Capitol. Every appointment in the power of the government has been made with the view of taking one more into his machine. Every office that he could possibly create he has created with this end in view; he has used his State machine for the purpose of the undoing of many a worthy Democrat and the very Democrats who fought the hardest for him and helped to put him in office, he has since set upon with all the powers of his political ingenuity.

We were not enthusiastic for J. E. Blackburn, but we did not like the way in which his defeat was brought about. A man elected Governor should attend to the duties of his office, and he is not elected by the people of Kentucky to go to Frankfort and then use all of his endeavors to control the nomination of every office, State or National. The people of Kentucky want to select their own officers; they feel able and confident to do so and they do not like for every office to be bartered away on promises of a Governor in order to defeat some worthy Democrat and to elect some favorite of his. There is no denying that Tom Paynter was elected after every kind of barter and trade could be resorted to, known to mankind. The last State convention was controlled by the machine; the last State primary was controlled by the machine, and there being such an over abundance of evidence of the existence of this machine, the time has arrived when the people must condemn it and put it under foot.

Beckham owes his political existence today to the man whom he is now opposing. No other man in Kentucky in 1900, could have snatched victory from the jaws of defeat except Senator McCreary, who acted as chairman of the campaign committee. If Beckham had been defeated for Governor, his candidacy at this time for United States Senator would be ludicrous and would never be given a serious thought. That this machine is strong there is no denying; that Beckham is active must be conceded; that his lieutenants are brave and fearless must be acknowledged; hence we say it is time for the Democrats to set about to correct this evil, and the quicker they correct it the better off the party will be. And if they do not correct it in the near future they will be in as bad a plight as the Republicans.

So boys, coats off, and with your sleeves rolled above your elbows; with your collar off and shirt open at the neck to keep as cool as you can in this hot weather, let us go to work, and the result will show the good effects of our efforts.

The Hon. Lewis McQuown has resigned as chairman of the subcommittee appointed to run and manage the State primary. We congratulate the people on this resignation. The members of the various State committees constitute the governing body of the Democratic party and no member should use the influence of his position to further the interest of any one candidate as against another, but should see that all Democrats were treated alike by the governing body. He should keep hands off as to an expression of preference in any race because of the official position he occupies. The chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee and also of the subcommittee, has been going around over the State as the mouthpiece of Governor Beckham. Interviews were sought with Mr. McQuown because of his official position, and he then uses that official position to boost and laud one of his favorites. It being so apparent that Mr. McQuown was using his official position to defeat the cause of one of the candidates for Senator, it is far better that he resign and that we get some chairman who will not be so perniciously active in advocating the election of any one Democrat as against another. It is like a judge taking sides in a case, the merits of which he is required to pass upon.

No wonder Governor Beckham devoted so much of his Lexington speech to the Attorney General, N. B. Hayes, for the old "Reubenrouser" has lately knocked several spokes out of the wheel of Beckham's political machine.

It should be a proud moment for the people of the mountains as well as of the State of Kentucky to know that an agreement was made and adhered to between the candidates for Congress in the Eleventh District, not to use any money or whiskey for the purpose of purchasing and debauching the voters of this rural and rugged district, in their late primary election. God speed the day when men can run for office on their merits instead of their success depending upon the length of their purse strings.

MR. J. A. SULLIVAN, of Richmond, has been selected as the Executive Committeeman from this district, as the successor of the late Richard W. Miller. Two good things were done the same day: One was the nomination of Helm for Congress, and the other was the selection of Mr. Sullivan for Committeeman. Oad that the Democratic party would act at all times with such wisdom.

ATTORNEY GENERAL, N. B. Hayes, the rough diamond of the Cumberland, will answer Governor Beckham at Bowling Green next Monday. You can smoke it in your old cob pipe that this product of the mountains, who got his education by digging and selling ginseng, will answer and prove every statement he makes by facts and figures. Look out, Mr. Machine, you are about to be struck!

HON. HARVEY HELM has been declared the regular Democratic nominee for Congress in this District. This having been accomplished let us go to work to elect him by an increased majority. He is as great in mind as he is tall in body and will make a Congressman of whose record we will always be proud.

HON. JESSE ALVERSON, of Stanford, is a candidate for Railroad Commissioner. He has served two terms in the Lower House of the General Assembly, and has made a very active, energetic and faithful representative and will make a most formidable candidate for the nomination for that office.

HON. DON C. EDWARDS, of London, has been renominated for Congress in the Eleventh District. The "Crested Jayhawker," John D. White, of Clay, almost lost his own county, and Charlie Herd, the other opponent, proved a failure.

IN GREAT DEMAND.
The demand for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy here has been so great that I have scarcely been able to keep it in stock. It has cured cases of dysentery here when all other remedies failed—Frank Jones, Pikeville, Ind. This remedy is for sale by Chas. C. Davis, Mt. Vernon, Ky.

NOAH ROBERTS, Sec'y.
For some time past it has been the custom of the brethren to arrange a program after we met, but thinking it best to prepare same before hand, and select the brethren to introduce the various discussions and notifying them in advance they could prepare something to better advantage. Don't think that only those whose names appear will be allowed to speak on the various subjects. Anyone present will be welcome to take part. Speakers will necessarily be limited to 10 minutes. We trust all the different choirs within reach will be present. All bring full baskets. We cannot expect the brethren of Mt. Pleasant to feed us all. Let us have a glorious day to the glory of God.

AUCTIONEER.—H. J. Jones has secured license as auctioneer for Rockcastle county and is ready to serve the people in that capacity at all times. Mr. Jones is a splendid auctioneer and always gives general satisfaction.

There is a splendid opening for some one in Mt. Vernon who desires to run a boardinghouse for college students. Miss Taylor, principal of the Brown Memorial School, informs us that the dormitory has already been filled to its capacity and there are many others who want board. Any one desiring to take charge of such a boardinghouse should correspond with Miss Ida M. Taylor, Mt. Vernon.

About four years ago a mad dog passed through the country and bit a dog belonging to George Hasty. Mr. Hasty prizing his dog very highly, refused to kill it. A few days since this same dog, bit the little five year old son of Mr. Hasty, and owing to the serious effect which the bite is having on him, it is feared that he has been infected with hydrophobia, although the dog has never shown any signs of anything being wrong. Dogs are entirely too worthless creatures to take such risks.

Rufus Childress, son of Mr. J. C. Childress, of Orlando, and brother of Dr. W. J. Childress, of Livingston, who was at work on the bridge across Rockcastle river, last Tuesday was struck by a piece of timber, knocked off the bridge and falling about thirty feet to the bottom of the river, was killed instantly. Mr. Childress was a splendid young man, upright and honest and a hard worker and his sad, untimely death was a great shock to his many friends and relatives. This is the second man killed by falling from the bridge in little over a week. W. M. Evans having lost his life about ten days ago, on account of a wrench slipping off a tap which he was tightening, causing him to lose his balance and falling to the ground, his head striking a rock and causing death instantly. Immediately after the death of young Mr. Childress, the foreman of the bridge gang tendered his resignation and the entire crew under him quit work, and as yet no one has undertaken the completion of the work.

In our next issue we will give some history of the telephone situation in Harrodsburg. The East Tennessee Company, a branch of the Cumberland Company, whose franchise has expired, is attempting to force the people to give them another twenty-year franchise and be allowed to charge exorbitant rates and forbid any other telephone company building in the town and county. The above company made application here last spring to the town board of trustees for a franchise, promising to run their wires into the local switchboard here. It has not been granted. From their past history it is evident that it was never their intention to carry out said promise, and that their object was to get in a position to get such a foothold in our town and county as to dictate terms or put our home telephone people out of business by reducing rates to such a point as to kill the home company, then raise rates to a point that they would recoup their losses quickly; the home company and the people catching it "where the chicken got the ax." Our people are for the home company and against a foreign corporation coming here to run it out. The home company will have new wires in from Lancaster by September 1, being already strung as far as Crab Orchard coming this way. The Conway and Brush lines will be rebuilt this fall, more phones put in at Livingston, Brodhead, Mt. Vernon and other points in the county.

Mrs. R. N. Robinson, of near Livingston, died Tuesday of typhoid fever.

The picnic which the half dozen or more families had Saturday afternoon in the yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Mullins was one of the enjoyable events of the season. Each family took their own lunch and all spread together under the large maples, which is an ideal picnic spot. There were twenty-seven in all present.

Last May, Cashier W. L. Richards bought in this county twenty-seven head of cattle, which averaged about 500 pounds, and sent them to his farm in Gallatin county to graze. Last week he sold the same cattle, which averaged 800 pounds and realized the handsome profit of $270. This is an evidence that there is money to be made on the proper handling of the mountain scrubs.

It is up to the citizens of Mt. Vernon to do as the citizens have done in all other college towns, throw open the doors of your homes to the college boys and girls, and furnish them board whether you want boarders or not. Every student who wants to enter the Brown Memorial will be looked after and comfortable and desirable locations secured for them, but if our citizens will only assist in this matter, it will relieve the principal of the school of much unnecessary work.

At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed compelling burial associations to be incorporated and also pay a yearly state tax of $100 besides an additional tax imposed upon all assessment companies. Mr. Willis Griffin, the undertaker who has been running the Mt. Vernon Burial Association for several years and which has proven an untold blessing to many people, has requested us to say to those who hold certificates of membership, that owing to this heavy expense, his impaired health and by reason of such his inability to look after and push the business as it would be necessary to do in order to keep it running, without a heavy loss, that he is compelled to let the association drop so far as he is concerned, and that he will not fill any more orders or attempt to make any more collections on the association. To the members of the association we want to say, realizing the great benefit of the Burial Association and the great need for the continuance of the business, that a strong effort is being made to arrange for the continuance of the association, as Mr. Griffin proposes to turn that part of the business over to some other parties, who, we believe, will be able to arrange for its continuance, we will be able to announce definitely, however, in our next issue whether the business will go on or not. In behalf of Mr. Griffin, we will not say that it was his desire to discontinue the association, although he has never realized any very great results from it, but, because of some unnecessary, unreasonable, unjust and uncalled for legislation, it became a matter of necessity with him and he trusts, as do we, that the members of the association will fully appreciate the situation.
